

There is a young man called Jamal. Jamal is big and strong. But he talks a lot and Tanza does not like him. Now Jamal says, "I can kill the leopard. I can kill him with my knife." He brings a goat and some rope to the lighthouse. The leopard is at the top of the lighthouse. Jamal ties the goat to the bottom of the stairs. Then he waits.

The leopard is very hungry. He can smell the goat. It smells good. At last the leopard comes down the stairs. He sees the goat but he does not see Jamal. Now the goat can see the leopard. He pulls and pulls at the rope. The rope breaks and the goat runs away. The leopard turns and runs back up the stairs. Jamal is very angry but Tanza is happy.
