

On Thursday evening in the Monitoring Station, Jason turned on the computers.

“There are cameras on Ice Island so we can see everything everywhere,” he said.

But it was a dark night so Jason could not find the thieves.

“I’ll look again in the morning,” he said.

After the children went to bed, Jason and Pandora talked for hours about the thieves and the temperature.

That night, Megan dreamed that she found a key inside a cave.

When Megan woke up early the next morning, she knocked on Greg’s bedroom door. She had to tell him about her dream.

“We must go to the caves!” said Megan.

Quickly, they put on their skis and went north to the caves. Inside the largest cave, on a table, was a key.
