
"Can we have it?" asks Tyler. "We can fix the boat," he says.
"That's a great idea," says the man.
Tyler asks, "So, can we have it, please?"
The man says, "Yes, I think it's okay."
"Great! Thanks," Tyler says. He's very happy.

"Let's come back and get it on Saturday," says Faye.
David says, "My father has a truck. He doesn't work on Saturday. He can help us."
"But the boat has no engine," says David. "And we don't have any money."
"I know!" says Faye. "But we can work and get some money. Then we can buy things for the boat."
"Good thinking!" says David.