

“Rapunzel, Rapunzel, let down your hair!” he called.

“Who are you?” asked Rapunzel.

“I’m a prince!” he answered. “Please let down your hair so I can come up and talk to you.”

He looked kind, so Rapunzel let down her hair and the prince climbed up into the tower.

“Why are you a prisoner in this tower?” he asked her.

“I don’t know,” said Rapunzel. “The old woman keeps me here. I’m so lonely.”