

▶ 2 Harry was a policeman. One day, the Chief wanted to see him and a policewoman called Emma. All the detectives were a little afraid of the Chief. He was clever but he didn't smile very often! The Chief pointed to some photographs and said, 'I want you to catch the Rucksack Gang. They're going to rob the Castle Museum tonight.' 'Great!' said Emma happily. 'Hmmm,' said Harry.

The Chief showed Emma and Harry two rings and a computer. On the computer screen you could see where the rings were. The Chief said, 'Wear these rings. We can see where you are!'

Emma said, 'Good idea Chief!'

Harry looked at the rings. He wanted to be at home eating ice-cream in front of the television! His legs felt weak. He wasn't feeling very brave!
